

What is claimed is:

1. A method for decoding an algebraic-coded message, comprising the steps of:

- 5       a. determining a discrepancy indicator;
- b. determining an error locator polynomial according to an algorithm from a selected class of decoding algorithms wherein an uncorrectable message is detected; and
- c. producing a perceptible indication of the detected
- 10     uncorrectable message.

15